

Animal Communication with Kate Jones, Reiki Master

What is Animal Communication?

In human language, words express a feeling, sensation or image in our minds. It is the same for animals - except that they do not have human language with which to communicate to us. Through a simple mental process I am able to pick up on these feelings and thoughts and interpret them into human language.

The purpose of Animal Communication is to help improve the lives of animals and their people. Helping the human to understand what the animal is thinking and feeling can often be healing enough in itself. Sometimes the animal also needs to understand the human perspective to feel better. With the addition of Reiki even difficult behaviour or health issues can sometimes be resolved.

What Happens if I want a Communication?

I am able to do a Communication with your animal from a photograph, so what you would need to do is to send me a photo of your animal by e-mail or post. I will make an initial connection with the animal and call you to arrange an appointment for the Communication.

At the time we have agreed, you will then phone me and we will begin the communication. We will begin by talking about the initial connection I make with the animal before you call, which takes 5 minutes.

Communication can also be done by e-mail, although most people prefer 'live' communication. The cost is £1 per minute and you can choose to limit the time of the communication if you wish. The cost will also include an initial 5-minute initial connection.

How Did You Learn This?

I qualified as a practitioner of Animal Communication with James French, who was seen in the documentary "I Speak Animal", broadcast on Channel 4 on 20th March. To visit James' website click here.

Click here to access my page on James French's website, where you will find a consultation form. You can use this to send a request for my help with animal communication. You can pay for the communication using Paypal via this site.

If you live within about 20 miles of Ludlow, I am also able to offer home visits, so that communication can be combined with hands-on Reiki. I have a particular interest in working with horses and have a local stables who can offer a space for a consultation. If I do a home visit, the cost would include travel expenses.